

Unsung Hero Award

Sarah Miles, Gloucestershire Committee

“Whilst she has incredibly useful skills and knowledge Sarah is always reluctant to blow her own trumpet and she approaches everything without fuss or fanfare”.

Overview

Sarah commands huge respect from all her committee colleagues and her Regional Manager for a range of qualities including her professionalism, willingness and commitment always. Sarah has been hugely effective either using her social media expertise to transform the digital reach of the committee or else securing or enhancing alliances and partnerships under the Community Ambassador Programme. Sarah is also known for being generous with her knowledge, always contributing excellent ideas at committee meetings and ever-willing to attend any and all community engagement events on behalf of the charity. A truly valuable unsung hero.

Judges' comments

The judges were all taken by Sarah's humility in all that she undertakes on behalf of the Gloucestershire Committee and the fact that she undertakes a great deal, taking the lead not just as a Community Ambassador Co-Ordinator but also as the committee's Social Media Volunteer. An impressive performance and a most fitting winner.
