

The Carolyn Randall Volunteer of the Year Award

Zafran Mohammed, West Midlands Committee

“The words commitment and dedicated fall short to convey Zaf’s passion and drive to spread the word regarding the outstanding services that Crimestoppers provides on a daily basis”.

Overview

Since joining us 18 months ago Zaf has been relentless in committing countless weekly hours delivering Crimestoppers messaging to and building links with a wide range of communities in the West Midlands. Zaf has demonstrated unstinting passion and dedication to the cause of the charity whether presenting to numerous mosques or walk and talk sessions with local elders as well as his traditional emphasis on securing youth engagement. Either undertaking promotions on a sole basis or in conjunction with the highly effective committee he has built up from scratch, Zaf has clearly had a demonstrable impact on raising the profile of Crimestoppers in his region.

Judges' comments

The judges were hugely impressed by both the number and variety of events and initiatives driven by Zaf in those communities that need us the most. They felt that Zaf has given a real boost to help put Crimestoppers on the map in the West Midlands and his personal commitment to the charity on virtually a daily basis was noted and admired.
